News Update !!! April 1, 2006

Sarah has received her new Chromalive Colour Pen and is now offering Holistic Colour Balancing:

"To understand the effectiveness of Chromalive Colour Therapy, one must realize that intelligence exists within the body and beyond human comprehension. Every cell at the DNA level communicates with other cells through a sophisticated language of colour light. By using the universal language of colour, imbalances within the body - which exist at the molecular level - can restore health to each cell. Chromalive Colour Therapy uses an advanced treatment that can improve one's overall wellbeing by balancing the body's natural energy frequencies. Chromalive Colour Therapy helps restore mental, emotional, and physical equilibrium."
